To whom it may concern,

I am inquiring about a new placement that is not housed in AK-supported. I am not fulfilled, and happy with the one I currently reside in, and have a complaint. I would like this to be addressed as soon as possible.

January 1st 2024

Around 5:10 pm, I went into the bathroom, locking the door. The door is fault so you have to lock it properly. It fault lies in when you twist the lock over and over again it will unlock the door. Halfway using the bathroom, I heard the door knob rotating with the person not knocking.

When it finally opened, I saw a black hand(staff hand) and a mopping bucket. It was allo the staff member. I told him someone was in there so he slowly pulled back, the door handle, and left. He did not go upstairs ever since he stepped in the house.

I saw his jacket in the reflection of this mirror which was directly opposite me. I asked a different resident he said it was him that came up in the bathroom, and opened it. The force used was not justified.

Early 2023(incident 1)

This was not the first time. During the year 2023, he was pulling up my trousers, saying I should cover up when I was washing dishes, and that he helping them out I was made at this ,because when I informed Ade the manager ,he said that why is my trouser down. I told him to stop, and I will do it myself. He kept on doing this until I reported for incident 2. My clothes where getting shorter, as I was getting older.

I did not have much fitting clothes that year, this action was disturbing me. I was also disturbed about the fact that ade the manager supported him, saying I should cover myself. It was like he was oblivious that I had a lack of money, and that allo should not touch resident indecently.

I have reported this to both my social worker, house manager, and mother. Somehow, not much happened.

Mid 2023(incident 2):

It was so sunny, so most resident in the house had their top off. This is because the heat was unbearable. So naturally, some of the time resident had their tops of including myself. Allo will poke my stomach, and when I tried to poke his he would cover up saying that why do you poke my belly?. I told him it was due to medication, I was taking at the time.

This obviously wasn't a game or even a joke. He then started touch my chest, because he said I had breast like a woman. Asking why do have breast like that?. I informed staff about this behaviour which they informed him telling him to stop, that I do not like him touching my chest.

When I was watching tv at night changing the channel, he then came up behind and grabbed my chest with his hand held it forcefully for a few seconds. I am deeply disgusted by this behaviour, and informed staff yet again, but the case was never followed up.

As a matter of fact, he acquired me of doing it to other client, saying that I poke their belly, which is not true. I told my social worker, about incident two a while later. He said I should just forget about it, remove it from my mind. This is not a step forward.

I have spoke to my physchratist about this, and it seems to them that because I take medication, that I making it up.

If I am not reallocated to a different accommodation, I will take action myself.

your sincerely,

Nnamdi Michael Okpala

To whom it may concern,

I am writing to complain that I am being made to clean the toilet floor by allo ,a staff member. As this is the third iteration of this recurring incident,and I am fed up with it; I would really ask someone else to clean or clean the toilet floor himself as that is his duty.

I always clean up after myself,so do the residents. However, people still wee all over the floor.I do not have to clean the floor.Allo should stop prompting me. I have explained this to him that it is not only me using it and that people who use it and dont clean it are more likely for others to add to it.I dont want to clean other mess.

I am deeply saddened by this as he did not listen which is why I am escalating this to those above.

Yours faithfully,Nnamdi Michael Okpala.

Aksupported Housing.

To whom it may concern,

I am writing the letter to make a complaint. I want to leave aksupported housing, and for the house to give me my money to manage myself. As a matter of fact, I have asked Kate the manager several times. To no avail, I could not get my bank card.

The Cooking Incident:

I started cooking pizza at 9:45pm. Cooking is not allowed at 10pm. I only needed 10min and had more than enough time. The fact of the matter is when late staff arrive, Mary. She simply it past 10pm turn it off which I was going to do.

However, she proceeded to turn the cooker off, which was fine. Instead of leaving she started telling me that I should not cook past 10pm. She even said stop mummering. I can't hear you. I told her to leave me, and which point she blocked the door, and kept on babbling.

She was blocking the door still mummering telling me that I was pushing her. So I went and collected my food container which I used to put the pizza. Second time she went and got her phone and started recording saying I was pushing her so I decided to go without my food bowl.at which point she left the kitchen after I left without my bowl.

She walked off causing Biafra saying Biafra will die.

This was the end of the argument.

I want my bank card to be given to me, and my credential all my money. I want to leave Ak supported housing, and my documents, and papers which I believe to be the custody of Kate Ekwo to be given to me. This document that contains passport, and my files and folder to be given to me as I leave Ak supported housing. I want to buy a house of my own. When I do, I would take the responsibility of managing these documents and move myself.

I don't need to support of Ak supported housing, and I am evicting myself from the house. I am not willing to discuss matter further. I do not want my mother involved.

Your sincerely,
Nnamdi Michael Okpala.

Dear Esther,

This is to let you know that NNAMDI OKPALA came in on the 14th of February 2025 last week Friday to move out his things with the support of staff. He was given three weeks medication, documents he still had with us and post letters. All these were signed off by Nnamdi. Although, he still has a chair and mattress to pick up.

I would appreciate it if this could be picked up as soon as possible. This is to allow the new service user move in. I will be happy to dispose of if you give us the go ahead.

Thanks and hope to hear from you.

Dear Nnamdi,

Thanks for reaching out to me. I have spoken to you regarding the issue of staff calling you a boy. I (Home Manager) did not call you a boy. Fire Alarm Inspection was going on and it is my job to make all clients aware of this inspection. You were coming down the stairs and sat in between the stairs. I was sitting in the lounge and I saw you on the stairs. You spoke out to me and I could not hear you. Then I said, 'NNAMDI COME' so I could hear what you said properly. But you thought I said 'NNAMDI BOY'. The conversation was witnessed by another staff who confirmed exactly what I said 'NNAMDI COME'.

In the Past, Alo (a member of staff) might have called you a boy but not anymore. Kindly, listen to staff when they speak to you, so that their words would not be misinterpreted.

Thank you.

To whom it may concern,

I am writing this email,because staff (Kate and Allo in particular) keep calling me boy.I woke up this morning to the sound of alarms going downstairs to check for the source,

Then kate said come here,boy.I was enraged,because I have told her this several times not to.I have also warned other staff to not call me boy.Kate has called me boy ,when i call her aunty. Other staff were there.

When we went upstairs, she quarried with me,and she told me she did not call me boy,and I was properly dreaming.I told her not to go down that route,and to get out of my room.

I told her that because I don't have children she should not call me boy.

To whom it may concern,

I am writing about the rumours circulating about my medication. In my defence, I was informed that I do not take my medication on social leave.

I have informed everyone about this, and where I stand. If you are misinformed, let me restate It. 'Since I am on community treatment order without being on section, I will continue as is not taking the medication'.

In response to the email sent by Staff implicating my mother saying I do not take my medication on social leave. I would like everyone to keep their noses out of family matter. It out of their duty of care whilst I am at my mothers' home.

I was also asked by Staff (Jowell), whether I am taking my medication on social leave. Which I responded "It does not matter; it is only staff duty of care to provide the medication to avoid Negi lance". Yet again, it is up to me, the client to either indulge in It or refuse it .I am uninterested in this issue of medication, take it or leave it.

I am sicked and tired about staff prompting me medication, even when after I have refused it. In the past, this happened with Mary, Kate, Ellis, Lorren and others. 'No' means I do not want to take medication, and should not slam my doors in anger. No, means leave me peacefully and quietly.

Yours faithfully,
Nnamdi Michael Okpala

I am writing because i am refusing to do things in the house. I have told kate that i dont need to do things in the house for her helping open doors for other people, put things in place such as the bathroom bin. this things are meant to done from start to finish.

No,I dont have to aid people like that . a rule of thumb which i have advice kate is anything they dont ask other resident mitchael arron they dont have to persuade me to do it. that should be the mentality.

i am busy doing my own things.

Dear Nnamdi

Thank you for coping me into this email.

I do not know the circumstances surrounding your Home manager [Kate Ekwo] using the word 'Lazy' but whatever the circumstances, I will address the language used with her and I can reassure you that it is never happen again. Please accept my apology on the matter.

It is never a good thing to call anyone derogatory names and calling your Home manager 'Fat' is rude and not acceptable neither so that need to stop. I think I have addressed the issue with you in the past and I hope this will be the last time.

I also need to make you aware again that your case has been closed to social work term and Mariam Fadare. The new care coordinator [Keith D Souza] is now trying to get the case reopened again with regards to future placement for you. He recently had a meeting with you as I understand. Please email your Care coordinator, myself or your Home manager about any issue of concern to you. My best wishes to you

Kind regards
