To whom it may concern,

- The incident

I am writing to complain about the incident about the commercial area and this is the second time I have been denied me access to move other items to the center of the table. She claims that I cannot move resident items on the table in particular.

I know that Aron lets me move his things to the center of the table, this is not the case as she is discriminating and using it as an excuse to keep his item on the table where people sit closely too.

I am deeply angered at this matter, as this is the second time she has defended a client without proper justification. As a matter of fact, I am in denial of her action and oppose them strongly. Me and Aaron who get along with each other move other things Tuesday to Friday - it is only when she is in that the rules must change.

This nonsense must stop, and she must not get involved saying it is cheating unless a client has complained of her directly, which did not happen. I have autistic and Aaron has something too which we can both relate to.

The sickness that Aaron has does not make him more entitled to keep the communal space if that is what she is starting trying to claim.

Your sincerely, Nnamdi Michael Okpala

Good afternoon Nnamdi

Please be reminded that I am not currently your allocated social worker. When you don't have an allocated worker you need to email Thurrock First – Thurrock.First@thurrock.gov.uk. Until you are re-allocated at the time of your next review. In regards to complaints please email Complaints@thurrock.gov.uk. I won't need to be copied into emails whilst not allocated to you as I won't have an active participation in your case during such times. Hope this clarifies.

Kind Regards
